

News

Professor Yoshiaki Nakano was invited to an on-line symposium, “XVI Mexican Symposium on Earthquake Engineering” and he presented “The impact of technical societies on earthquake engineering on the building codes”. The symposium was organized by Mexican Society of Earthquake Engineering, Mexico, on November 19, 2020.

Prof. Kawaguchi was invited to give a lecture on Tensegrity Structure of White Rhino II in Kashiwa campus, held by the Executive Management Program (EMP), the University of Tokyo, on Dec. 11, 2020.

Prof. Kawaguchi was awarded the Gold Medal by the Taisei Foundation, on Nov. 5, 2020.

Prof. Kawaguchi gave a presentation “Development of ceiling damage detection system based on deep learning using image data” on the research achievement symposium held by the Taisei Foundation, on Oct. 26, 2020.

Prof. Kawaguchi was invited to give a special lecture at Waseda University, Japan, on Jul. 15, 2020.

Associate Professor T. Kiyota presented an Invited lecture “Follow-up surveys on long-distance flow-failure caused by 2018 Sulawesi earthquake, Indonesia” in online forum of Earthquake Engineering Committee of JSCE, 17 September, 2020.

Associate Professor T. Kiyota conducted damage surveys after the off Fukushima Prefecture earthquake, Japan, 16th February, 2021.